

WOOD BISON HUNTER HERE

Harry V. Radford, Who Shot the Largest Bison in the World, in Town

TELLS OF EXPERIENCES

Thinks Fort McMurray Will Be
Big City Some Day—Line
Should Be Built

Harry V. Radford, who left Edmonton fourteen months ago on an exploration trip into the north, arrived back in town last night and is a guest at the Castle Hotel. Mr. Radford has not finished his work in the north and expects to return in a few weeks time to the far north and stay there for a period of three years.

Mr. Radford's whole time while in the north was devoted to a study of the habits and habitat of the wood bison. He has made a keen study of its habits and has been endeavoring to find out how far north the bison will penetrate and will make a formal report to the American Bison Society. During his sojourn in the country he saw thirty and was able to photograph them and even had the good fortune to be able to secure one which has now been found out to be the largest in the world. The skin is at present at Wolfe & Lind's, taxidermists, on Second street. The bison was five feet, ten inches in height and weighed 400 pounds, 30 pounds heavier than the bison shot by Wm. T. Havard, president of the American Bison Society, in 1886.

Bears Former Record
Mr. Hornaday's bison is in the National Museum at Washington and is the same animal whose photograph appears on the $10 bill of the United States. (This was the largest bison in the world until Mr. Radford obtained his, which is bigger and heavier in every way.)

First in One Hundred Years
Questioned as to his experiences in the north Mr. Radford said that he travelled by the Athabasca and Slave rivers to Fort McHenry, where he got acquainted with the Esquimaux. While there he made a map of the bison country and explored east of the Slave river and into the Barren Lands, where no traveller has been since Samuel Thorne went there nearly a hundred years ago. While in the Caribou-Barren Lands he met with the Caribou-eaten Indians and hunting with them, shot a number of caribou. The country is in Alberta, it is in the city at present, but Mr. Radford remarked, seemed to be too rocky to ever be of any use for agricultural purposes, but, although he did not pay a great deal of attention to the subject, all minerals seemed to be well represented.

Mr. Radford has not nearly finished his researches into the life of the wood bison, and only came to town to transact some business. Incidentally, he is looking for an assistant and companion who will accompany him back into the north for a few years.

How He Shot It
When asked as to the size of the skin and how the bison had been captured Mr. Radford said that according to figures it was larger than any animal yet shot. It was hunted by dog teams fifty miles back to his camp and on being placed in a warm atmosphere took a week to thaw sufficiently to permit of its being skinned. When it was skinned it was found that the skin alone on the forehead was four inches thick.

Future of Fort McMurray
On his way south he passed through Fort McMurray and he asked what he thought of the place he said:

"I was very much impressed with Fort as a site for a future great city and I think it would be a shame to abandon the railway to it. My reason for this is, that there is a continuous water communication from here to the Arctic coast. People will say that there is no one in the country, but I think it is because of the difficult means of access that people will not even live there, and if there was a railway, Fort McMurray would become the main starting point for the whole north. There is an ideal spot for a town at the junction of the rivers."

that he noticed a great change since he passed through on his way north a year ago. Settlers in every kind of conveyance and with all their effects, he met on the road, going into the Grand Prairie country.

Story Incorrect
Speaking of being interviewed Mr. Radford mentioned an interview which appeared in an Edmonton morning paper this morning, and requested The Capital to state that it was incorrect. The paper had stated that the Department of Agriculture has taken possession of enormous hide under permit issued to Radford last year—naturalist wants the skin, and that Mr. Radford had come to town to contest the possession of the skin with the department of agriculture. Mr. Radford said: "The story is a fabrication for which either the reporter or the editor is responsible. I made no remark to the reporter from whom he could in any way draw the conclusion that I had any contest in mind concerning the skin, and the reporter never asked me if I would contest the possession of the skin with any living person. I fear that the fabrication is a malicious one in view of the context of the interview and previous allusions made to my trip in the northern country."

VIA HUDSON'S BAY IN 5 YEARS TIME

Hon. G. P. Graham Makes a Prophecy at Melfort—Laurier at Saskatoon

Saskatoon, July 29.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and party arrived at Prince Albert from Melfort, last night, passing through the country famous as the centre of the Riel rebellion.

The Premier delivered short addresses at several towns, expressing gratification that all traces of bitterness in connection with the rebellion had disappeared.

At Melfort, Hon. G. P. Graham remarked that before another five years had passed, what he will be shipped to Liverpool via Hudson's Bay.

The Premier delivered an address in Saskatoon to-night, remaining until Monday morning.

HYMN SAVED THREE FROM RATTLESNAKE
San Bernardino, Cal., July 29.—Singing "Nearer, My God, to Thee," three women charmed a rattlesnake away from crawling from beneath a cushion upon which one of them was seated out on the Vale ranch.

Mrs. F. P. Dunlap, Mrs. Harry Atwell, and Mrs. W. A. Vale were seated under the trees when Mrs. Dunlap perceived the snake. Instantly she thought of music-charming reptiles, and she whispered "let's sing." She commenced to hum the sacred air and the others, not knowing why, took it up.

The snake, with head poised, panted, and Mrs. Dunlap slowly arose and beckoned the others to follow, who they quietly did. After having gained a safe distance, the others discovered what their danger had been.

Armed with clubs, the women then killed the snake.

FIND BODY OF BOY LOST TWO MONTHS

Two-Year-Old Boy Disappeared
Last May—Body Found
Today

Elkhorn, Man., July 29.—The climax of the sensation surrounding the disappearance of Norman, the two year old son of Thomas France, occurred yesterday, when the little corpse was discovered by a hunter.

CORONATION BILL PASSES COMMONS

New Form of King's Declaration Was Adopted Without a Division

LIKELY TO PASS LORDS

Asquith Announces That Conference Between Commons and Lords Are Helpful

London, July 29.—The bill modifying the declaration on religion required of the King upon his accession, passed the House of Commons upon its third reading to-day by a vote of 245 to 52. In its final form it will not only eliminate the phrase offensive to Roman Catholic sentiment in His Majesty, but also makes it acceptable to Nonconformists by striking out the proposed statement of adherence to the Established Church. King George is now required to declare merely that he is a "faithful Protestant." The amendment to the declaration aroused considerable feeling in England among the opponents of the Roman Catholic Church, and upon its second reading there were street demonstrations outside of the Houses of Parliament.

London, July 29.—In the Commons last night the Government's new form of King's Declaration Bill was adopted without a division in the committee and a smooth passage of the bill through the Lord's next week is anticipated.

Lords and Commons May Agree
The conferences of the two dominant parties who are trying to compose the constitutional differences of the House of Commons and the House of Lords already have succeeded in bringing together several gulls that have separated. The statement by Premier Asquith in the lower chamber this afternoon indicates that a compromise is more hopeful than has been anticipated. Unless rupture occurs during recess, little further of an official character is likely to be heard regarding the negotiations until parliament reassembles on Nov. 15.

Will Continue Conference.
Mr. Asquith, after stating that the conferences in the course of the meetings had surveyed the field of controversy carefully, said:

"The result is that our discussions made such progress, although we have not so far reached an agreement, as to render the opinion of all of us not only as it is desirable, but necessary that they should continue. In fact, I may go further, we will meet again this stage to break them off."

The Premier added that if further deliberations showed no prospects of an agreement that could be announced in parliament at present session, the conference would be closed.

FARMERS AT WORK ON G.T.P. BRANCHES

Owing to Shortage of Crops in South Alberta Many Take Work on Construction

Calgary, July 29.—Mr. George Webster, manager for J. O. McArthur, who is building the G. T. P. branch lines in Alberta, is in the city at present making arrangements for employing a large number of farmers from the south country who are desirous of getting work, having little prospects of a very heavy crop. Last week Mr. McGrath, M. P. of Lethbridge, who has been interesting himself in this matter, interviewed Mr. Webster asking the chances of employment for a large number of men. Mr. Webster replied that he could take a couple of hundred and Mr. McGrath gave considerable publicity to the fact.

Large Number at Work
Mr. Webster has received a large number of responses and has got applications for about all the men that he needs or can put to work. He says that there is a shortage of the outfit or his company would be able to start more teams going.

A number of farmers are on their way with their teams and Mr. Webster expects to meet a number of them here. We can see the G. T. P. being rushed very rapidly. Men are at work all the way from Buffalo Lake to Iricana.

LET'S JOIN FORCES

The Dominion Census will be taken next June. Why should not Edmonton and Strathcona become one city of forty or fifty thousand, instead of remaining two small cities? Many prominent citizens of the two towns think amalgamation would be the best possible move. What do you think?

Mr. O'Brien of the O'Brien Yale Lumber Company, Strathcona, when asked what he thought of the movement to unite the two cities said: "The sooner the better." Mr. O'Brien said he had seen many examples of amalgamation in the east, and they had always turned out well for the towns concerned. It would reduce the size of municipal government considerably he said, and reduce the rivalry between the two cities.

Sheriff Robertson, Edmonton, agreed with the general consensus of opinion. He said:

"Civic union, besides the creation of one municipality of a comparative large population, might have the additional advantage of lowering the cost of municipal government. In Edmonton we have a board of commissioners, which combined draw a fairly large sum in salaries. In Strathcona they have officials which cost the city quite a sum to support. In the event of amalgamation one board would be sufficient. That, of course, is only an instance.

"The advantage of a large population would be material in advertising. It would attract more people here."

UNITED WIRELESS INQUIRY NOW ON

Federal Grand Jury Still Investigating the New York Company

New York, July 29.—The Federal Grand Jury is still actively engaged in the investigations of the affairs of the United Wireless Company of 42 Broadway. Arthur M. King, who appeared as counsel for Col. Christopher C. Wilson and Samuel S. Bogart, president and vice-president of that company, at the time of their arrest several weeks ago, said yesterday that practically the entire office force of the wireless company had been subpoenaed to testify. Several of the clerks and others were on hand yesterday in response to subpoenas.

The investigation is said to be along the lines indicated in the complaint of the post office inspector on which the warrants for Col. Wilson's and Mr. Bogart's arrest were issued. The company charged use of the mails in a scheme to defraud in connection with the sale of the United Wireless stock. W. W. Tompkins, president of the New York Selling Agency, 18 Broadway, who had charge of the United Wireless company's stock sales, is also under arrest. All three men are out on bail.

The investigation is expected to last several days yet.

GOMPERTS OBJECTS TO PARDON He Will Insist on Serving It Out

St. Louis, Mo., July 29.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, has arrived here to complete arrangements for the convention of the body of which he is the head, the second Monday in November.

He expressed himself as to the sentence that is hanging over him, saying: "I am contending for my constitutional rights. The United States Supreme Court will not do us justice in lower courts in their findings and I will be sentenced. Then I will be pardoned. I don't want a pardon. I used was the right of free speech, and if I have violated a constitution of the United States or the laws, I want to be punished. I shall not accept a pardon."

DISCREDIT RUMOR OF OLIVER RETIRING

Political Friends of the Minister Say It Is An Annual Story

Ottawa, July 29.—The political friends here of Hon. Frank Oliver discredit the rumor that he is to retire from politics and go on the Railway Commission. "Every time the Minister gets beyond the range of communication that story is sent out from Winnipeg," said one of them today. "There is nothing in it, and there is no one in sight to take Mr. Oliver's place if he should retire."

NO STATE TAXES IN MINNESOTA

Owing to Surplus There May Be No Taxes Levied Next Year

Minneapolis, July 29.—There won't be any state taxes in Minnesota in 1911. The state government expenses will all be met by the great surplus in the state treasury.

Absence of state taxes is an unheard of thing. The condition is supposed to have been precedent in the United States, as it is in Minnesota.

On October 1st there will be a surplus of $4,000,000 in the state treasury. It is expected that October 1, 1911, will show a surplus of $17,000,000 after all the governmental expenses for this year have been paid.

The unusual amount of money in the state's cash box is due to the settling of a number of lawsuits, the lumber cases, the gross earnings and tax cases, the Kennedy inheritance tax case, and revenue following upon the court decisions.

MINISTER AND HIS WIFE, HURT IN FIRE, BETTER

Victims in Belfast Hotel Fire Are Slightly Improved Now

Belfast, July 29.—Rev. J. McCaughan, who was so badly injured by jumping from a window in the Kelvin Hotel, which was destroyed by fire on Tuesday, is still unconscious, but his pulse is improving and he has been able to take a fair amount of nourishment. Progress, while doubtful, is more hopeful to-day.

The condition of Mrs. McCaughan, who was also injured by jumping, is fair. She suffers much pain from spinal contusion but her case is considered hopeful on the whole.

CHASED THIEF IN BATH TOWEL

Greenwich, Conn., July 29.—While taking his morning dip, Joseph Burling, chauffeur for Addison G. Hannan, heard a peculiar noise as of something scraping against the side of the house. Jumping from the bath tub, he observed a man letting himself down from an upper story by a rope and carrying a bag. Burling sprang against the side of the house, chased the thief, and captured him.

The man was taken to place one arm about the shoulders of his partner, while the woman placed her arms round the waist of the men. They danced to the left, taking a step of about four inches at a time and then bringing up the right foot before taking another step, the movements being in time with the music of the "orchestra," a big drum pounded by nine Indians who sang with the rhythmic drum beat.

During the intermissions horses and cattle were given away.

WARRANT MAILED ON 25th

King Will Be Hanged at Seven O'clock on Tuesday

The warrant for the execution of William Oscar King was mailed from Ottawa on the 25th and Sheriff Robertson expects that it will arrive here either tonight or tomorrow morning. There will then be nothing to hinder the carrying out of the sentence which will take place on Tuesday morning next, between seven and eight o'clock.

PUBLICITY BOARDS TALK

No Decision Yet on Appointing Agent in Western States

The publicity committee of the city council had a conference this morning with the publicity committee of the board of trade on matters concerning the advertisement to the outside world of this district. The proposal to appoint an agent in the western states, having for an object the directing of settlers into the north country was discussed, but no decision was made. The joint committees will confer with Mr. Alfred Vanderhoof when he arrives in Edmonton early next month, in reference to publicity.

$9,000 FOR ONE SHAKESPEARE

Such Was Price Paid for a "First Folio" at Auction Sale in London

London, July 29.—The sale of old and modern books and important illuminated and other manuscripts was continued at Sotheby's today. The following were some of the prices realized:

William Shakespeare's "Comedies According to the True Origin Copies," first folio edition, $3,000; Shakespeare's "Merchant of Venice," first edition, $775; Shakespeare's "Comedies, Histories and Tragedies," first folio, printed in 1623, $9,000; the second folio, printed in 1632, $1,050; the third folio, printed in 1663, $4,350, and the "Comedies, Histories and Tragedies" of William Shakespeare, fourth edition, printed in 1685, $380.

INDIANS GUESTS AT "I GIVE" DANCE

Kiowa and Cheyenne Indians Had Monster Celebration This Week

Fort Cobb, Okla., July 29.—The Kiowa Indians have been entertaining the Cheyennes at a big "I give" dance, southeast of this place. The ceremonies were mostly for the purpose of bestowing gifts upon the visitors, who received horses, cattle, blankets, shawls, calicoes, money, buggies and tents.

Ten cattle were slaughtered when the dance began and the amount of canned goods and groceries purchased for the dance would equip a country store. The Cheyennes came from the Cantonment district in Blaine county.

Last Monday was a big day. Twelve horses, a number of cattle, a buggy, and quantities of calico, blankets, and shawls were given to the Cheyennes. In the afternoon took place the dance known as "ladies' choice." It made no difference whose husband, sweetheart, or son the man was, he could not escape the attention of the Indian women. Some of the men responded when merely beckoned to enter the dance circle, while others had to be seized and dragged to their places in the circle of dancing women.

The man was asked to place one arm about the shoulders of his partner, while the woman placed her arms round the waist of the men. They danced to the left, taking a step of about four inches at a time and then bringing up the right foot before taking another step, the movements being in time with the music of the "orchestra," a big drum pounded by nine Indians who sang with the rhythmic drum beat.

During the intermissions horses and cattle were given away.

ZINGARIS LEAD

Folkstone, July 29.—In their first innings with the Folkstone cricketers, the Canadian Zingaris had 213 runs, Gibson 75, Davidson 32, William Marshall 31 and Southern 30. Folkstone had 140 runs for eight wickets. Herderson took four for 44 and Rathbun three for 46.

WIFE ACCUSES HER HUSBAND

Mrs. A. E. Dunham Has Her Husband in Police Court on Assault Charge

"THREW ME ACROSS ROOM"
Domestic Troubles Aired Before the Police Magistrate This Morning

That her husband thrashed her, while her brother-in-law was outside in an automobile, capable of seeing through the window what was going on and of hearing her screams was the story told by Mrs. A. E. Dunham this morning to the police magistrate in pressing the charge of assault that she has made against her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dunham live in Parkdale.

Mrs. Dunham, in giving her evidence stated that Dunham, on the evening of July 27th, told her he was going down town with his brother in the latter's automobile. She requested him to stay at home as she did not like to be alone. When his brother drove up in the car he insisted on going with him.

Threw Her Across Room
"Then," said Mrs. Dunham, "I placed myself in front of the door to prevent him, and he grabbed me and threw me across the room. I ran into my bedroom and he followed me and started to thrash me. His brother was outside at the time and could have seen through the window what was going on and some of the neighbors told me in the morning that they had heard me screaming. He has threatened to strike me several times, and sometimes he even said he was going to strangle and lynch me."

"Haven't you a bit of a temper yourself?" asked Col. E. B. Edwards, who acted for the defendant.

"Yes, but I control mine," she replied.

"But haven't you smashed windows while in a temper and also threatened to smash your husband's automobile?"

Thinks More of the Auto
"On two occasions a couple of weeks ago, when he made me angry, I started it, to smash it up. But I had good reasons. He thinks more of the automobile than he does of me."

"He is crazy at times," she continued. "It isn't safe for anyone to live with him."

"Did he hurt you?" asked Col. Edwards.

"Yes, I have many bruises and the places where he struck me are red and swollen. I had to have a doctor to attend me."

Mrs. Dunham's sister, testified that the former had said to her and told her what had happened. She stated to her that she would never live with her husband again. The witness told of seeing the bruises, which Mrs. Dunham alleges her husband caused.

Medical Evidence
Dr. Whitehead, who attended Mrs. Dunham also said that he had examined the bruises and said that they were likely inflicted by a broad instrument. There were also fingermarks on different parts of her body.

The defendant on being called to the stand, stated that he did not use any unnecessary violence in pushing his wife from the door, and that from the time his brother called for him until they left only a couple of minutes elapsed.

"Why did your wife want to stop you from going down town?" asked Col. Edwards.

"She accused my brother of enticing me away from home," was the reply. Dunham stated that there had been frequent quarrels between him and his wife.

"Two weeks ago," he stated, "she said that she was going to break my automobile to smithereens. She seized a hatchet and began to batter down the door of the garage, and one time she threatened to hit me with a baking pan."

Mrs. Dunham, who throughout the evidence of her husband and her brother-in-law, had punctuated it with frequent injunctions to speak the truth, returned her call for him that both of them had perjured themselves.

Judgment in the case was postponed until tomorrow morning.

HILLS OF ASPHALT IN THE FAR NORTH

That asphalt abounds in the region about Fort McMurray is the statement made by Mr. R. A. Dewar, who is among a party of 29 people who have returned from the north. Mr. Dewar is very enthusiastic about the north country. He says that the mineral resources are boundless, and that there is splendid prairie country. Signs of asphalt are seen everywhere, especially along the banks of the Athabasca River. Mr. Dewar corroborates the statement made by a prospector who was in Edmonton some time ago when he says that asphalt is so abundant that settlers use it to roof their log houses with. In the vicinity of Fort McMurray alone there are twenty-eight cubic miles of asphalt.

There is also an abundance of salt. When a prospector was boring for oil at Fort McMurray he passed through 266 feet of salt which lay in two veins. This prospector has already bored 1000 feet and there are excellent prospects of him striking oil.

Mr. Dewar was in Fort McMurray when the Hon. Frank Oliver was there and he says that the Minister of the Interior was greatly pleased with the appearance of the country.

In regard to agriculture, Mr. Dewar says that this year has been most successful. Fifteen homesteads have been taken up in the vicinity of Fort McMurray.

Mr. Dewar also announced that a party of prospectors who were looking for gold in the Horns of the Lake district picked up some splendid specimens of ore.

Included in the party which returned from the north were Mr. George and Miss T. Gordon of New Zealand, who have been visiting for the past year in Fort McMurray, and Mrs. and Miss Wyley of Fort Chippewa.

THE EXTRAVAGANCE OF FARMERS

Just now a feeling almost approaching consternation is pervading certain American financial centres, because it has been discovered that farmers are becoming large buyers of automobiles.

It is amusing to note how easily financial circles become disturbed just as soon as farmers attempt to live on a plane anywhere equal to that on which people in "financial centres" live.

We remember the days when the stoutest of men were dismayed when farmers began buying "top" buggies. As a farmer's son, it appeared but reasonable that men, whose wives had many miles to travel in order to do their shopping, should provide them with a comfortable vehicle in which to ride, and a "top" to protect them from the elements, but not so the financial "circles," a farm was on was, they thought, good enough for farmers and anything better was extravagant and likely to disturb the money markets; but the farmers continued buying buggies and afterwards carriages, and were the better for it, and the financial interests lived through it all.

But the question arises, in what way is a couple of thousand dollars spent by a farmer more likely to disturb money markets than the same amount expended by other people. As in the case of the top buggies the argument is all on the farmer's side. Again the question of the distance which he must travel comes in. The farmer uses the machine for business, the financier for pleasure and if the auto is an economical means of travelling, as is claimed for it, then the farmer who is operating on a large scale may own one and the country be the better for it.

It has, however recently been suggested that this anxiety is but another manifestation of that disfavor with which the wealthy non-producer looks upon the producer who has money to spend, because it means that the greater the number of producers who have wealth, the larger the number of other people who must produce in order to get wealth.

The farmer whose business requires, and whose bank account enables him to buy, an automobile should have one because he will become a bigger and more efficient farmer for having it. The one who buys merely to be in the swim, to imitate his more fortunate neighbor or to follow a fad will "go broke," and his place will be taken by one who will be able to enlarge his earnings to the size of his expense account, or keep his expense account down to the size of his earnings, and the rural population will continue to improve in intelligence and capability because the farmers buy automobiles just as it did because their fathers bought buggies and carriages in days gone by.

HAY WILL BE GOOD PROPERTY THIS YEAR

For some time past the Homestead has been directing attention to the importance of laying in a liberal supply of feed of all kinds with which to carry their cattle through the coming winter. It is not only important that every man have enough for his own use, but that those in the districts which had a liberal supply of rain have some to sell to their less fortunate neighbors.

If those who have hay to sell will act upon the suggestion made in another column of this issue, and put up as much hay as possible, and then those who can hold do so, leaving their less favored brethren to dispose of their product first, all will get a good price, and the price one farmer pays will be the price his brother farmer will get. If all try to sell at once, the sellers will get a low price, and then the farmer who must buy will have to pay big and the speculator will be the only man to get any profit from it.

Let the farmers in favored sections get busy and put up as much hay as available, and then let them be wise in marketing it.

Speculators already see that this is their opportunity and as soon as the new crop is fit to bale they will be on the ground to buy and will tell the usual tale that hay is plentiful and the price likely to go down any day.

The Homestead is in receipt of reliable information from all parts of the province and the reports show that many settlements that never imported hay before will have to do so this year.

—Alberta Homestead.

MAKE HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES

The problem confronting every farmer and stockman in Alberta this year is that of providing roughage for the coming winter. Hay will not only be high, but very high. The timothy crop is light; straw of all kinds with the exception of winter wheat is short.

Every market that had to be supplied from Alberta in the past will look to Alberta again this year for feed. Besides this, other points which have produced enough to supply their own needs in previous years, or had led to export will import largely during 1910 and 1911; those sections which have been favored with rain can do much to supply them and it behooves the farmers of those sections to do their utmost to that end, and by so doing they will be well paid for their efforts.

Every acre of grass land that can be mowed should be mowed. In driving through the country we see numerous places in which half a day's brushing will enable you to secure a ton or more of hay for the use of no kind of farm work that will pay better than that from brushing out those places.

An acre of early sown rye and used as a pasture will easily take the place of a ton of hay during the late fall and spring months and every farmer should sow at least a few acres.

—Alberta Homestead.

A Week of White

Announcement

A Week of White

Our semi-annual White Sale commences next Monday and continues throughout the week. We have recently received some very nice shipments of white goods. An exhaustive tour of the Eastern and foreign markets has been made by our representative for goods suited to this sale. Some wonderfully low purchases have been transacted without sacrifices of our required standard of qualities. We intend, therefore, next week to make some exceptional inducements.

The sale will extend throughout the store, all white goods will be heavily reduced, the underwear department makes a straight cut of 20 per cent. off regular prices, not only on muslin underwear, but on hosiery, knit underwear, children's dresses, pinafores, corsets, etc. Each day a special bargain table will be set—On Monday will be shown on table an EXTRA FINE QUALITY LONG CLOTH UNDERSKIRT with deep embroidery flourish. Regular $2.75, for $1.50

In other departments correspondingly low prices will be made. WHITE DRESSES, WAISTS, AND SEPARATE SKIRTS, CURTAINS, SHEETS, TABLE LINENS AND LACES. MEN'S WHITE GOODS, in fact, everything white takes its part in this event.

PATENT MAN'S BRAIN PLAN OF SYNDICATE

No One Shall Infringe on the Work of a Young Genius

Dorchester, Mass., July 29.—So valuable are the products of the brain of Daniel S. Hickey, Jr., of 93 Savin Hill avenue, Dorchester, that a syndicate is taking steps to patent the brain of the young man.

Papers have been made out and are to be forwarded to the Patent Office at Washington with the end in view that no one shall be allowed to infringe on the work of the young man, who is now merely in his head. Mr. Hickey has invented many appliances in use at present, but hitherto he has felt that with sufficient financial backing he would be able to overcome some of the difficulties he has met. The syndicate has sufficient belief in his possibilities to guarantee him the backing if he will only supply the products of his brain.

The syndicate is to take the greatest of precaution against their money being wasted, and the papers to be sent to Washington contain some remarkable provisions.

He is to be kept from "joy riding" or acroplaning by a provision which says that "said Hickey further agrees that he will ride on no car, but in safety guarded conveyances." The agreement further provides that Hickey shall forfeit $10,000 if he shall withdraw or violate without due course any article of the agreement.

Mr. Hickey has working models of many of his inventions, which include two improvements on the telephone, a flying machine, a concrete form which will do away with much steel construction, and a steam valve which he claims will enable a steam engine to develop nearly twice the power it does at present by the use of the exhaust steam.

Much discussion is going on among the patent attorneys of Boston as to the outcome of the novel attempt at "mortal patenting," some taking the ground that such a thing is impossible and others saying that there is no reason why the patent should not be granted.

Mr. Hickey is a well known young man in Dorchester; and has been noted as one of the best end men in the minstrel shows of the Catholic Club of Dorchester.

THIRTY ARE KILLED

Result of an Engine Colliding With a Street Car

Cleveland, Ohio, July 28.—Thirty passengers on a St. Claire avenue car were near death tonight when the Pittsburgh flyer on the Pennsylvania Railroad crashed into the car on a grade crossing. Twenty were injured, several fatally. The engine ploughed through the centre of the car throwing it 150 feet. Men and women pinned in the wreckage were rescued by police and witnesses of the accident. The gates at the crossing were raised when the car started to cross the tracks. The motorman failed to see the train, which was hidden from view by a curve. The car was smashed to kindling wood. The injured lost limbs, suffered fractures, bruises and cuts and one woman was nearly crushed to death.

WIFE'S LOVE VALUABLE

Judge Assesses Wife's Affections at $151,000

Duluth, Minn., July 28.—David A. Miller was awarded a verdict of $151,000 by the jury in the district court before Judge Dibbel, for alienation of his wife's affections. The defendants are Isaac Helstein, Henry Helstein, Morris Marley, Robert Ashinski and Jos. Fox. The award is unprecedented in the annals of the state courts in Minnesota. It was for the full amount asked in the suit. Joseph Littleman, who was mentioned as the sixth defendant, was found to be in no manner connected with the conspiracy to rob Miller of his wife. Miller claimed that by words and deeds the defendants alienated his wife's affections and established a bar between them which time has not been able to overcome.

PRESIDENT IN AIR RIDE

Brazil's President Takes Trip in Dirigible Balloon

Bitterfeld, Germany, July 29.—Marshall Hermes Fonseca, President-elect of Brazil, yesterday made a flight in the dirigible balloon, Parseval VII. The trip occupied about fifteen minutes. The Parseval will shortly proceed to Munich to resume the regular passenger service.

Not content to give the devil his due, many men offer themselves to him for the taking.

COMMITTED SUICIDE

Chicago, Ill., July 29.—The coroner's jury empaneled to inquire into the death of Ira G. Rawn, late president of the Monon railroad, returned its verdict at three o'clock this morning. It found that he died from a shot fired from his own weapon by his own hand.

WAS ELECTROCUTED

Boston, July 29.—Napoleon Rivett, of Lowell, was executed in the electric chair at the Charlestown state prison early today for the murder of his room-mate Jos. J. Galtoux, in Lowell, on the night of February 22, 1908. Rivett had been made the beneficiary in a life insurance policy for $1,000 on the life of Galtoux.

GRAFT RAMPANT IN ILLINOIS CENTRAL

Chicago, Ill., July 29.—The Illinois Central Railway Company was dubbed the "Santa Claus" of the car repair "Christmas Tree" in today's version of the graft investigation before Master in Chancery Roswell B. Mason. "Christmas" was every day in the year for the stockholders of the car repair company and certain high officials of the railroad who were participants in the graft. More than $1,500,000 of the railroad's cash is said to have gone into the pockets of the plotters in the years 1907 and 1908. Details of the methods used are now being spread upon the court records for the first time. Planners will turn green with envy if they read them. It was as one of the plotters who has reformed put it today: "Easier than taking candy money from a three-year-old kiddie."

The names of the Illinois Central officials involved have not yet come out in the proceedings before Master Mason, but Ira G. Rawn, who during the "Christmas Tree" period was vice-president in charge of operations, was mentioned today by Harold A. Sims, former superintendent of the Memphis Car Company. Mr. Rawn furnished the car company with the schedule of lumber prices which could be allowed in figuring car repair work. After the first discovery of the car repair frauds, Mr. Rawn resigned and later became president of the Monon Railway. He died last week at his summer home in Winnetka from a wound believed to be self-inflicted. The hearing will be continued at ten o'clock tomorrow morning.

"We are suing the Memphis Car Company in this case for the restitution of $300,000 graft," said Attorney Biggs at the close of the hearing today. "From the disclosures of witnesses we may have to sue for more before we are through."

TWO MONKS POISONED

Fed With Villagers in Portugal Ends
Fatally for Friars

Lisbon, Two Franciscan monks are dead at the monastery of San Esteban as the result of poison, and a dozen others are seriously ill. The affair is declared to be the result of a feud with inhabitants of the district. Last month a number of the peasants made a night attack on the place and endeavored to set fire to the building. The monks, however, barricaded the doors and courageously held the enemy at bay until a detachment of civil guards arrived. No further attacks have been made on the monastery, but after eating their evening meal recently a number of the monks showed symptoms of poisoning, and it was found that the soup had been poisoned.

FINDS HIS FATHER BY FILM PICTURE

Man at Show Gets Clue to the Whereabouts of His Parent

Seattle.—Working on the clew of a scene in a moving picture show, William Larsen, of Minneapolis, found his father Captain "Sam" Larsen, of the schooner Bringgold, and father and son were re-united, after a separation of twenty-one years, during which neither had seen the other nor did they know of each other's whereabouts.

Larsen left Minneapolis twenty-one years ago, when his son was ten years old. Nothing was ever heard of him by his family and he was finally given up as dead.

Some time ago young Larsen visited a moving picture show in Minneapolis with his Uncle Olaf, brother of the supposedly dead man, "Sam" Larsen. One of the films depicted a fishing scene at Petersburg, Alaska.

"All of a sudden, while we were looking at the picture," says the son, "I was telling of the discovery. 'Uncle Olaf jumped up and shouted, 'Sam, Sam, Sam.' Every one thought he was crazy and hustled us out. When we got out in the light I saw Uncle Olaf was all white and shaking. He said they had taken my father's spook. I told him it was nonsense, that these photographs were the same as any others taken in a gallery."

"Then we went back to the show and saw the picture again," Uncle Olaf pointed out a man standing in the stern of a fishing schooner laughing. He thought it was my dead father. We asked the man who operated the films when the picture was taken. He said he was sure it was within a year."

"The next night we brought Aunt Mary, Uncle Olaf's wife, who knew father very well, as she was once his sweetheart too. She said it was her brother-in-law, Sam, her father, I wrote to a firm in New York and learned that the pictures had been taken in September, 1909, at Petersburg, Alaska. So I came west to Seattle and went to Petersburg last month. There I found plenty of men who knew my father as Sam Larsen, but I discovered that he was at that time in Seattle and it didn't take long for me to find out that every one on the waterfront knew Sam Larsen. Later I found him."

"I didn't believe it was 'Will at first," said Captain Larsen, who sat on the fisherman's sofa at the end of the Clapper fish dock. "I had always thought of him as a little shaver. Now I know it's him and I'm mighty glad he found me. I will take him out to the halibut banks and teach him how to fish and run a boat."

"I remember very well when that picture was taken last fall in Alaska."

REAL INDIAN PRINCESS

She Has Never Met a Man Except Her Brothers

New York, July 29.—The departure for home of Princess Indira Rajah reminds one again of this distinguished figure who has been visiting American customs and, at the same time, acquainting us with the contrast that exists between the American and the Indian girl, both in training and education. On her trip she was accompanied by her father, the Gakwar of Baroda, who is one of the wealthiest rulers in India.

The Princess, who possesses a peculiar, but marked beauty, found much interested her in the liberty granted to American girls. Yet she could not be said to envy them. Years of careful training in the manners and customs of her own land have fastened them in her mind as the only ones becoming a royal princess. To a girl whose acquaintance with men does not extend beyond an occasional meeting with her own brothers, the association of American men and women in the ballroom or on the beach must have appeared as decidedly new.

Her Education

The Princess Indira Rajah is 17 years of age. The greater part of her life has been spent in study, in her own land and in England. She is accomplished in the use of both English and French, and is also proficient in Sanskrit. Her brothers have been highly educated as the Princess. The Gakwar is quite proud of his daughter's attainments, and gives no little credit to himself for the practical nature of his ideas.

The indifference of Princess Indira Rajah to the wealth displayed by Americans may be easily understood when it is known that in her father's palace is the most valuable collection of jewels in existence. On festive occasions the Gakwar dons bejeweled robes worth more than $150,000, and his daughter, when the whim seizes her, can encompass her supple figure in a robe of pearls, the value of which has been roughly estimated at $100,000.

The Royal Wardrobe

In fulfilling the wish of her father to make her represent the highest type of an educated Indian woman, the princess has little time for social frivolities. Her costume consists solely of her native sari, which is composed of ten yards of the finest Indian silk worn over a short tunic of silk. This robe is wound closely about the body from the neck to the feet and is fastened by a single knot at the waist line. It takes an Indian girl years to acquire the art of draping this sari properly.

This happy little princess is not deterred from all worldly pleasures even though the freedom of the American girl is not granted her. While studying in England, she saw all the best plays on the London and Paris stages. At home she attends many social functions, but these are always "manless" affairs. To her mother's secretary, a Miss West, she has admitted that she would like to try the pastimes of her fair-skinned sisters, but she says she would not adopt them.

Almond Fruit Salad

Since a can of pineapples into pieces of the size of an almond. To every two cups of the pineapple add a cup of almonds and a cupful of celery. Serve over this a dressing made exactly like mayonnaise, with the exception of the mustard. Rich, sweet cream beaten is preferable.

Elopement at Fourteen

The Edinburgh police have stopped an extraordinary elopement in the person of a fourteen-year-old boy of fourteen residing in the south of England, and a rich lady of forty, who had been living with his parents. They were tracked to Edinburgh, but the boy refused to return with his father until the police compelled him to.

A well laid plan often gets messed up in the hatching.

If a woman can't drive her husband, she at least can make him back up.

POWER OF LORDS TO BE CURTAILED

Home Rule for England and Ireland—Many Political Movements

London, July 28.—Home rule for Ireland and Scotland as well as an imperial parliament with representatives from all her colonies is the latest and most important step in England's progressive political program, which has had the world's attention during the past year.

It is also said that the House of Lords will be curtailed as to power and other vital matters concerning the budget and home affairs have been definitely agreed upon by the Lords of both parties in parliament, who have been in conference since it met.

Premier Asquith intends to make the announcement regarding the result of this secret conference and it is generally admitted by those who took part in it that it will be the most important utterance ever pronounced by a prime minister of England. In fact, the matters agreed upon of such importance that entire secrecy could not be maintained and the capital tonight is eagerly discussing the progressive measures agreed upon.

It is known that the conference reached an agreement concerning the veto power of the House of Lords, which was the chief reason for their getting together in committee as they were instead of precipitating discussion by throwing the matter directly into parliament and that the decision curtails the hereditary powers of the members of the House of Lords in the government of the people.

But when the leading members of the parliament began to discuss affairs of the government they went beyond the matter of the House of Lords veto and did what, in the United States would be platform making only, in this case the platform was agreed upon by the leaders of both parties in parliament and is certain to be carried out.

According to information, it was Irish under the control of a Grand Committee so that Ireland would be home rule in fact, but not in name, and instead of being separated from the British Empire, would be more closely welded to it. This same plan it was agreed would be extended to Scotland.

Next the conference agreed upon the necessity for an imperial parliament embracing and linking all parts of the British Empire and forming the United States of Great Britain.

MEXICO CITY WILL BE ABLE WITH LIGHTS

Nearly 300,000 Extra Lamps to Be Used in September During Centennial Fete

Mexico City, Mex., July 29.—The electrical illumination of this city during the month of September in honor of the centennial celebration of Mexico's independence will be on a much more elaborate scale than was originally contemplated.

It is now estimated by the Mexico Light and Power company that nearly 300,000 additional incandescent lights will be burned during the entire month. The great cathedral edifice will be a blaze of light from basement to dome, the plans for its illumination calling for the stringing of 16,000 incandescent lamps. More than 800 lamps will be used to decorate the front of the National palace. From each of the other public buildings from 2,000 to 6,000 lamps will be used. Every business house in the city has made arrangements for an elaborate decoration.

It is announced by the committee on arrangements that it has carefully worked out the street scheme of illumination. The downtown business district will be canopied with light. Many triumphal arches will be erected at various street intersections.

Many novel electrical decorative schemes for business blocks and private residences have been evolved.

AN INVENTOR'S REWARD

The German Society of Master Smelters has just subscribed $5,000 as a gift to Pierre Martin, who discovered the Miron system of hardening steel. By some means he parted with it secretly, and now, at the age of four score years and six, is unable to work any without resources. The money will be sufficient for the old inventor to pass the remainder of his days without anxiety.

Money is a most entertaining conversationalist.

After marrying for money many a man wishes he had been brought up to work for a living.

SCOTT'S BEST NOVEL

Past and Present Critics as to Wizard of North's Greatest Book.

At the public library of Aberdeen there are forty-nine calls on an average, for each one of the Waverley novels, to twenty-three for each of the romances of Robert Louis Stevenson. From the first of the year to the end of June, 26 of Scott's stories were loaned out 1,300 times. "The Fortunes of Nigel" is the favorite, "Guy Rannering" then "Queen of Hearts" with "Old Mortality" fourth. This suggests the question: "What is Scott's greatest novel?"

In the British Weekly many critics say, Mr. J. B. Barrie discussed the question, and in the end put "Queen of Hearts" above the rest. It should not be much surprised if now he were to say "The Fortunes of Nigel," and among his favorites they are two who share this preference. But it is worth while turning back and collecting some of the opinions. Goethe considered in 1828 that Scott had never written anything so surpassing or even equal "Waverley." He had at the same time a strong admiration for "The Fair Maid of Perth."

Choice of Scholars.

Some excellent judges put "The Fortunes of Nigel" at the head. Lord Tennyson said: "I think 'Old Mortality' is his greatest novel." Mr. Andrew Lang has said: "Had I to choose my private favorite it would be 'Old Mortality'." W. C. Macready writes in a letter: "When I read that romance on its appearance about thirty years ago, I thought—'and as it has lived in my memory I have ever since considered it—the greatest and best of all that admirable novelist's work. My opinion of it confirms the opinion of the great men who have said so much of it then made on me.'"

Adolphus Jack says: "The novel which goes by the title of 'Old Mortality' may or may not be Scott's masterpiece, but what on the whole is perhaps the one which, if a phlegmatic literary opinion were taken would obtain the largest following."

Favored by Old Fitz.

There are not a few who could name "The Heart of Midlothian" as their favorite. When the Scott century was celebrated in Edinburgh, the Emperor of Brazil, on the first morning of his stay, went at five o'clock in the morning with the novel in his hand to identify some of the localities described in the novel. He said that Scott's descriptions were so precise and vivid that he had succeeded easily. "Oh," says Edward Fitzgerald, "how refreshing is the leisurely, easy movement of the story with its true and well-harmonized variety of sin and character."

Most Dramatic.

Not a few give the preference to "The Bride of Lammermoor." Mr. Gladstone did so for one, declaring that "No man since Aeschylus could have written 'The Bride of Lammermoor.'"

Also Most Famous.

"Ivanhoe," says Ambrose Trollope said, is perhaps the most favored novel in the English language. We learn from Lockhart that it was received with great enthusiasm in England with more enthusiasm than any of his other novels. FitzGerald estimated it as "Scott's first approach to failure in prose," but this is not a complete account of his estimate.

"The Fortunes of Nigel" has its friends in other places than Aberdeen, and although many have severely condemned "St. Ransome's Well" it had the good fortune to please Ruskin. Professor Minotto considers that none of Scott's stories is of a more absorbing or more brilliantly diversified interest.

"The Fair Maid of Perth," though in the first rank will hardly be named for the leading, and beyond this it is unnecessary to pursue the investigation. If I may venture to express a personal preference, it would be for "Rob Roy." I have read it fifty times at least, and have never been disappointed.

Scott's Alluring Heroine. No doubt the chief attraction is Di Vernon, but the changes from Northumberland to Glasgow, and from Glasgow to the Highlands—the perfection of the setting in each—the comparative absence of digressions, and above all the large and easy power of the tale entrance me.

Moose Jaw, July 29.—After playing a stellar game in every department Moose Jaw went up in the air last night and in the eighth and ninth innings and lost the game. Only 21 Eskimos were to the plate in seven innings and two were down in eight when Bell fumbled at short and the trouble began. Starkell gave hits and a pass making four runs. Two more came in the last innings. The locals got three in the first and one in the eighth.

CITY FOOTBALL LEAGUE

By their victory over the Hibernians on Wednesday night, Calles A have put themselves on an equal footing with the St. George's for the championship of the A. division of the city football league. This necessitates a play-off, and these two evenly matched teams will probably meet next Wednesday at Diamond Park in a sudden death game. The winners will then meet the Calles B who have won the championship of B. division. Immediately the League championship has been decided, competition will commence for the United Ad Shield. This will be a knock-out series and should furnish some exciting matches. By the time the latter series is wound up the provincial teams will be pretty nearly ready for the matches for the championship of Alberta and we look to see the Edmonton champions carry off the laurel crown.

CALGARY DROPS ONE

Regina, Sask., July 29.—In the prettiest pitching duel of the season Regina defeated the league leaders last evening 1 to 0. Gaddy only permitted two walks but they came in succession in the fourth resulting a forced run. He pitched himself out of a deep hole in the next innings when with the bases full and none out he victimized Lethbridge, Collins and Waiters. Skeels pitched a grand game for Regina and received perfect support. Only once did Calgary really threaten and that was in the fourth when the bases were full with one down, on three short singles, he easily disposed of the next two. The regular umpire not having arrived Gaddy was asked to act and he gave perfect satisfaction to all concerned.

HAVE MADE FORTUNES IN THE GAME OF BASEBALLThe American National Game Has Been Responsible for the Bank Accounts of Many Men

Baseball affords one road to riches for the thrifty, industrious diamond star. Some have amassed fortunes during years of success in the big and little leagues, and many have doubled and trebled these savings. Others, taking a lone whirl at some "good thing," have struck it rich.

Chances for accumulating wealth are better now than in the palmy days of Goldsmith, Brothertons, Anson, Bennett or Flint, for the king pins now adorning the championship clubs are drawing large salaries in comparison with the earnings of the "former giants."

Millionaire Comiskey

Wise men of the baseball firmament are unanimous in the selection of Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago White Sox, as the wealthiest man now identified with the game who acquired his start in life wearing the spikes. But nobody ventures even a hint at the banking account of the "Old Roman." He is quoted among the millionaires, however, and the man behind one of the biggest baseball plants known to the pastime. Comiskey sailed away his dirt and diamonds at regular intervals while wearing the brown at St. Louis, and later seized the opportunity to further swell the savings until today he stands at the top of the heap among the financial powers of baseball.

Connie is Thrifty

Connie Mack, known in private life as Cornelius McGillicuddy, who is driving his Athletics at a furious pace in the American League pennant scramble, has always led a frugal life, having away his earnings as a player until the bank book boasted of something really substantial.

Later, Mack swung his dynamic forces into line with Benjamin Shibe, owner of the Philadelphia Americans and the Connie Mack of today, tall, raw-boned, and angular, possessed of a wifely penetrating eyesight, is reputed wealthy. Mack is said to have a fourth interest in the Athletics, receives a regular salary as a player in every season for one-quarter of the club's profits.

Ned Hanlon, one of the early pillars of the national game, and the present boss of all his surveys at Baltimore, sank his savings as a ball player in real estate ventures in Pittsburgh; later acquired an interest in the Orioles, as well as the Philadelphia club and the rest was easy sailing. Today, Hanlon ranks among the wealthy men of the game. Then there is George T. Pateau, commander-in-chief at Kansas City. The sale of the Louisville franchise netted George $100,000.

Now a Politician

John K. Tener, once a Chicago idol, is serving in Congress and making a home near Pittsburgh. Jesse Burkett, known in the old days as one of the greatest batters in baseball annals, has stored away many a dollar. He is now in charge of the Worcester club, together with Jimmy Collins, who left Minneapolis last season to assume command of the Providence team.

VAMPIRE REVAMPED

(Or, Kippered Kipling)

SOME fools there were, and they played their stack home near Pittsburgh. Jesse Burkett, known in the old days as one of the greatest batters in baseball annals, has stored away many a dollar. He is now in charge of the Worcester club, together with Jimmy Collins, who left Minneapolis last season to assume command of the Providence team.

Oh, the time we spent, and the thoughts we lent
And the weight of gold we lack
Belong to the Jeffries who did not know
(And now we know that he never could know)
He never could come back.

Some fools there were, and their goods they spent
(Even as you and I);
Reno and keno—the pace they went
(And it wasn't the least what they thought it meant).
But a fool must follow his natural bent
(Even as you and I).

Oh, the sleep we lost and the thought it cost—
And the excellent things we planned
Belong to the Jeff who could never come back
(And now we know he never could come back).
Yes, now we understand.

And it isn't the shame and it isn't the blame
That stings like a red hot tack:
It's coming to know he never knew why
(Seeing at last he could never know why)
The deuce he couldn't come back.

His Best Bet Now.

With his characteristic propensity for the lime-light, it's up to Roosevelt to challenge the winner of the new year.

POOR BILL CARNEY

Twelve defeats out of the last fifteen games is now the record of the Beavers. Yesterday the Brownies dropped the first of the series at Seattle being blasted 13 to 0. Manager Bob Brown is burning up the wires trying to get players to strengthen his team for the long stretch finish ahead of this Northwestern pennant race, but he is having trouble in getting them. Unless there is improvement in the work of the team very soon Bob will probably recall that Calgary contingent of his. The Beavers will be home on Thursday for three games with the Turks. —Vancouver Province.

SASKATOON LIKES PROS.

Saskatoon is baseball dizzy. On the opening day 3000 people fought to deposit their two-hits at the box office and the interior of the ball park looked like Reno on a never-to-be-forgotten day. The Saskatoon Capital says: "Shortly after half past five o'clock the fans began flocking to the South-side ball park, and by six o'clock every seat in the grand stand and bleachers was occupied. At 6:15 the place was taxed to its utmost capacity and standing room was all that was available. The ground along the north side of the ball field was covered with enthusiastic spectators and rosters were in evidence everywhere. Immediately after the boys went on the plot they were cheered almost to an echo, and during the entire game they were cheered and applauded for many brilliant plays which were made. And the girls fans were there too, and in large numbers. It was pleasing to note that so many of the fair sex turned out to see the first triumph of the new team, and it can truthfully be said that they were in the majority at last night's contest."

ATHLETES QUEER PERSONS

New York, July 28.—"I have heard of many cases," says an old-time athlete, "of men who were accused of being quitters, solely because they couldn't make good in one sports, as they had in another. For instance, there was a lad at Pennsylvania, well known for his ability as a water polo player, who simply flunked in football. The police, as you know, are sure this man could stay below with the best and rough it as hard as any one. Still, when it came to football he wasn't there."

"Pennsylvania had also the case of a first-rate sprinter, a real champion at the dashes, who showed all the courage in the world at anything up to a quarter of a mile no matter how hard he had to go, and still in a football suit couldn't get up his courage to go at the tacklers. He had what his coaches termed as the sprinter's natural hesitation—the desire to save his legs."

"In the football days at Columbia there was a fellow who was a first-class bicycle rider, as daring as they make them and an adept at basketball, another rough sport. He tried to play end on the football team, but gave it up because, as he said himself, he could not get his feet off the ground. The dive tackle was an impossibility to him. He said he couldn't rid himself of letting loose at the man with the ball."

"Columbia, too, had a man who was reputed yellow in football and afterward went out to row. A graduate came to Coach Rice, who put this man in his boat, and said: 'Rice, that fellow's a quitter. Because he got him out.' For answer, Rice put the crew through a tough time row, bringing the graduate along with him in the coaching launch. After the exhausting trip, in which both men watched the man all the way, Rice turned to the other man and said: 'Well, is he a quitter?'"

NOSE CLIP FOR DIVING.

The surf guard remarked that salt water in the nostrils was most unpleasant.

"Good swimmers seldom get water in their nostrils, because the natural principle of swimming is to learn to breathe through the mouth," he continued.

"I noticed the other day that a sporting goods dealer got gay with a customer, when asked for a nose clip for diving. I never saw one of these things in the regular market, but I do know of a man who makes them. The clip is fashioned somewhat after the manner of the clip used by men who ride bicycles in long trousers. The ends are covered with chambray like the straps of a reel instrument and the clip fits snugly and not uncomfortably. It surely gives confidence to a beginner and I only wonder that more of them are not made."

CALGARY IS A
— COAST FARMNearly Every Player on the Calgary
Baseball Club is Subject to Recall by Vancouver

The Calgary Herald states that Babe Clynes, the Rough Riders' sterling left fielder, has been recalled by Bob Brown of Vancouver, and is to report immediately to the Beavers. The Calgary fans will now realize the disadvantages of being a farm. If a roll-call of the Calgary baseball club were taken it would be found that almost every player on the team is attached by a string to some team on the Coast. At the rate Vancouver is losing games of late, Calgary is liable to waken up any morning and find its stars ordered back to the coast. How would the Rough Riders look, minus Kellackey, Smith, Paddock, Standridge, Gaddy, Flanagan, etc.?

It is all very well to bolster up a Class D team with green Class B talent but when this green material is developed by Manager Carney and big league scouts cast covetous eyes around, who will get the money in the event of a sale? Not Calgary, we reckon.

On the contrary, Manager White has carefully refrained from the farm idea. The only player the Eskimos have had on their roster, to whom a string was attached, was Dretchko and he belongs to Seattle. Spencer, Quigley, Hickey and Dell are all the property of the Edmonton baseball club, as are the other members of the team, so when the time comes for any sales, the club will derive the benefit, not some coast magnate.

There are two ways of running a ball team. The first is to make a great splash in the first to make a league Calgary, and then have nothing the next season, while the other is to be adopted by Deacon White of a policy which makes for permanent results. Which is the better?

Y. M. C. A. AND NORWOOD

A good game of amateur baseball is looked for this evening when the Y. M. C. A. and Norwood meet at Diamond Park. Norwood has won seven straight games but will be forced to the limit this evening to get a clean slate. Game called at 6:30. E. H. Garrison will have charge of the game.

CRICKET TEAM FOR 'PEG

The Calgary Cricket Club will send the following team to participate in the big tournament to be held in Winnipeg next week: W. Bryant, F. W. Johnson, J. S. Spick, C. E. Alter, W. B. Kelly, Geo. Poole, Syd Downing, Gus Downing, A. R. Redgrove, C. Hall, E. H. Stephens, F. S. Wellenrich, with the addition of possibly another two players who have yet to be selected.

Heinrich and Cooper. Leslie and Lynch. Leslie weakened in ninth and forced in two runs. "No game at Saskatoon. Too much Laurier."

MODERN LIFE WOULD BE TOO HARD ON THE NERVES IF IT WERE NOT FOR WANT ADVERTISING!

The pace of life has become tense. Worries, disappointments, up-sets at home and office, losses, discouragements seem to multiply as daily life becomes more complex.

The property owner, who MUST have a steady income from rents or lose his property, is "racked" by the untimely defection of a tenant. Some classified advertising quickly retrieves his loss—and quiets his nerves!

The salary earner unexpectedly loses his position—and his peace of mind. The strain would shortly "break" something in his nervous system if, once more, want advertising did not find the better job—and restore to him his mental equilibrium.

In every phase of the city's life, every day, the want ads play the part of the peace-maker. THEY SERVE you and me at some crisis in our lives—and keep the modern pace and tension from proving too fast and tight for us.

Truly, the want ads ARE FOR SERVICE!

ALL THE TETOTALERS DOWN

An amusing story of the late Sir Wilfrid Lawson was related by Sir John Cockburn at a recent meeting of the British Institute of Social Service. "During the war," he said, "Sir Wilfrid applied to the War Office for the percentage of tetotalers in a certain regiment who (1) had been invalided home, (2) were in hospital in South Africa, and (3) were in the line. He wanted the information for publication, and received the reply that in each case the figure was 50 per cent. Thinking there must be some mistake, Sir Wilfrid asked for further particulars, and was informed that there were only two tetotalers in the regiment, and that both of these men had been taken ill."

HAD SO MUCH CASH THAT IT COULDN'T BE STOLEN

Contractor Had Such a Big Roll That Thief Couldn't Pick His Pocket

Chicago, Ill., July 29.—If you'd be safe from pickpockets, carry lots of money.
This is the theory of Charles Johnson, a contractor, who resides at 7228 Emerald avenue.

Mr. Johnson had so much money yesterday that two men who attacked him on a sixty-third street car could not get away with it undetected, and the result was that one man was arrested on a charge of attempting to rob and his companion was forced to flee empty handed.

Johnson had just drawn $700 in small bills from the Chicago City Bank at 6223 Halsted street and had boarded the car, bound for his office. Two men jostled him and he felt one of them reaching to his pocket and tug at the roll of bills, in an effort to remove it. The roll was so big it would not come out of his pocket, Johnson says, and he grabbed the man's hand. One of the men struck Johnson in the face. Johnson returned the blow and the two men leaped from the car and ran.

Policeman James Rooney, who happened to be near, chased the men and after a race for four blocks arrested one of them, who gave his name as James Turner.

CANADA'S MILITIA STUDY AVIATION

Frederick Villiers Thinks Canada Should Learn New Branch of War

Ottawa, July 27.—Aerial navigation has taken a firm hold upon Canadians everywhere. Much interest has been manifested this year throughout the country in the various aviation meets and in the evident determination of the military authorities eventually to establish a aviation branch of the militia service of the Dominion. Coming as it does on the eve of the initiation of the new naval establishment in the scheme of Canadian defence the recent declaration of Mr. Frederick Villiers, the most famous of all living war correspondents, and announced his intention of moving his family from England to Canada to reside for the remainder of his life, his pronouncement carries additional weight to the Canadian mind.

Referring, when here a few days ago, to the subject of Canada's defence, he said: "It may sound like the suggestion of an impracticable dream, but I should recommend that the amount the Dominion contemplates spending in defence, in the future, should be devoted to the development of the art of aviation. This is the war of the future, and the country that has developed it the highest will be the stronger one. Great Britain does not seem to appreciate this, and is consequently spending its money on air craft. It would be an excellent thing for Canada to lead this way and be ready for their coming war."

"The coming war? With whom?" he was asked.

"Ah, that is difficult to say whom first—but Germany sooner or later. See how much attention the Kaiser's government is paying to the art of aviation. The Germans realize the importance of the new scheme, and will do all in their power to encourage and develop it. The airship is the war craft of the future."
"Seventeen years ago I laid out a mimic war campaign for an English daily paper and invented a dirigible balloon to destroy an imaginary town in Russia. Everybody laughed at me and said I was mad, as it was impossible to steer such a thing against the wind. The sooner we realize the importance of the science of aviation as a factor in war the better it will be for the empire."

RAILWAY FEARFUL TOLL

Trespassing on the Right of Way the Cause.

It is not generally understood how large a proportion of the deaths and injuries on the railroads of the United States is due to the risks willingly taken by trespassers who persist in using the right of way of a public thoroughfare. The annual report of the Interstate Commerce Commission for the last eleven years shows that in this period 105,000 persons were killed or injured, and that of this total 50,000 were killed outright. The large ratio of fatalities to injuries, which is several times larger than the ratio that obtains in this case of accidents to passengers and employees suggest that practically all these accidents were due to trespassers being struck by moving trains.

There is no country in the world says the Scientific American, where loss of life due to trespassing on railroad approaches these figures. The difference is due to the stringent laws in Europe against trespassing, to the efficient policing of the tracks, and especially to the fact that violations of the law are invariably punished.

The fatalities and injuries are most frequent where the railroad pass through manufacturing districts in which the tracks are lined with factories. The railroad, frequently offers the shortest cut between the factory and the home, and statistics show that men of the laboring class are especially killed by the hundred. Evidently the remedy is to be found in the thorough co-operation of city and country authorities with the roads in the rigid enforcement of the law against trespass.

So long as the public realizes that warning placards, railway watchmen and law against trespass are subject to the caprice of local magistrates who look with lenient eye upon offenders, trespassers will continue to walk on the tracks, and this horrible annual toll of deaths and injury will continue to increase.

FRENCHMAN'S PLOT AGAINST PRIESTS

Extraordinary Evidence Brought Out Before Montreal City Council

Montreal, Que., July 29.—Some peculiar evidence was heard yesterday afternoon by the committee of Aldermen charged by the city council to investigate the charge that there was a plot organized by the French Free Masons of this city to bring a scandal on the Eucharistic Congress, which is to be held here in September.

According to the evidence the lodge room was tapped and witnesses said to what they claimed was said and one, Mr. C. A. Millette, on being charged, refused to be present at the meeting of Eucharistic Congress on the night of February 11, has some twenty or thirty of the members being present. Amongst the questions taken up and discussed was the Eucharistic Congress. A member opened up on the matter of the plot by stating that he had a plan whereby the Eucharistic Congress could be destroyed and intimidated to a huge scandal.

The plan of campaign was simple. As there was to be thousands of priests in the city in attendance at the Congress, and as the accommodation for the proper housing of such a large number of Eucharistic visitors would be inadequate, it would be an easy matter to inveigle several of the priests to houses of ill repute under the guise of directing them to respectable boarding houses; a photographer would be secured so that the clergyman placed in these compromising positions would be snapped and damaging evidence thus obtained.

All the others present seemed enthusiastic over the project. Not one objected to the whole plan as being fraught with danger to all the members of the lodge if it were once discovered. Specific mention was made of Grandchamps, inspector of police, who was to see that the offenders were arrested. After some discussion a committee was named to look into the project, the said committee being composed of Messrs. Grandchamps, Laroux, F. J. Beauchamp, and Francois. Under cross-examination the witness stated that he was present in the room when he heard the conversation. He, with companions, had rented a room underneath the lodge room of the Emancipation and had rigged up a contrivance by tearing down part of the ceiling and installing certain acoustic apparatus whereby all that went on in the lodge room could be heard. With him on the night in question, were Dr. J. C. Bourguin and Mr. Beaupre.

Mr. Beaupre followed and substantiated every detail the testimony of the former witness. This witness was the one who brought out the fact that the Emancipationists were fully aware that in the affair they did not have the sympathy of the English Masons.
